TANDAG CITY

TANDAG CITY

With its flourishing economy, Tandag City is the provincial capital of Surigao del Sur in the Philippines. In 2023, it has 21 barangays with an estimated population of 66,000 people. The city has a historical significance dating back to the Spanish colonial period and a diverse population, including indigenous Manobo and Mamanwa communities. Its primordial income and economy rely heavily on agriculture and fisheries, and its generated revenue supports livelihood and essential services like healthcare and nutrition programs.

Concomitantly, the City Nutrition Committee, led by Honorable Mayor Roxanne C. Pimentel, is dedicated to ensuring the proper delivery of nutrition services in the city. Their goal is to make Tandaganons both nutritionally healthy and self-reliant through sustainable nutrition initiatives. These efforts have effectively combated malnutrition in the city with support from the National Government Agencies through different programs, projects, and activities.

Evidently, Tandag City has adopted a comprehensive approach to nutrition and wellness in line with the Philippine Plan of Action for Nutrition (PPAN) for 2017-2022. Their dedicated efforts have produced notable results, including an impressive 80% average coverage rate for Operation Timbang Plus (OPT+) from 2018 to 2022. The city has successfully implemented a wide array of nutrition-related programs, covering areas such as acute malnutrition management, maternal and child nutrition, micronutrient supplementation, behavior change promotion, and food fortification.

As supplemental, they focus on other vital areas like water, sanitation, and hygiene (WASH), family planning, food safety, and training programs for nutrition workers. These initiatives demonstrate Tandag City's strong commitment to improving the health and well-being of its residents through comprehensive nutrition and wellness strategies.

Through the years Tandag City has garnered multiple notable awards such as being the recipient of the 1st ever Ganti sa Kapiskay Award: an innovative award for eliminating malnutrition, stunting, and wasting in the Caraga region awarded by the Regional Development Council in the year 2020 and 2021; recipient of the 2021-2022 Green Banner Seal of Compliance awarded by the Regional Nutrition Committee through the National Nutrition Council Caraga Region; and a recipient of the Healthy Pilipinas 2022 Award given by the Department of Health Central Office. The city also produced one outstanding Barangay Nutrition Scholar in the year 2021 by the name of Ms. Robelyn Galela. Ms. Galela was awarded as the regional outstanding Barangay Nutrition Scholar.

Today, the City of Tandag deserves another prestigious award for its service to the Tandaganons and its victory in the journey towards the provision of unparalleled assistance and in the incessant combat of malnutrition to its people. With that said, it is evident that today, Tandag is showcasing its crowning glory of success!

LANIEBELLE T. ANGCHANGCO

Ms. Laniebelle T. Angchangco, a single mother of five children with three grandchildren stands as the indomitable matriarch of her family. Her unvacillating passion for public service and community engagement has been the driving force or thrust of her journey. Her path began as the Municipal Nutrition Action Officer of the Municipality of San Luis, Agusan del Sur, where she dedicated two transformative years. In 1986, her exceptional dedication earned her a pivotal role as a Nutrition Officer III within the Provincial Government of Agusan del Sur.

For five impactful years, she assumed the role of District Nutrition Program Coordinator, focusing on the development of Barangay Nutrition Scholars. Her remarkable passion leading to ascent continued, eventually reaching the esteemed positions of Provincial Officer II and the distinguished designation of Provincial Nutrition Action Officer.

With her background as a Nutrition Action Officer and a burning desire to make a difference, PNAO Laniebelle T. Angchangco dedicated herself to improving the nutritional status of the Agusanons in the Province of Agusan del Sur. Over her 38 years at the helm of nutrition programs, now PNAO Angchangco continues to demonstrate an unparalleled commitment to her cause. Her remarkable work extends beyond the boardroom.

The Nutrition Village is one of her revamped existing initiatives that serves as a rehabilitation center for malnourished children, most of whom have severe malnutrition issues with medical conditions. She also launched the Evaluation on Food Production and Sanitation (EFPSAN) for Households with Malnourished Children, which aims to advocate sustainable food gardening and improve sanitation practices in communities. Moreover, she spearheaded Focus Group Discussions for malnutrition-prone populations, such as pregnant and lactating mothers, mothers of malnourished children, teenage mothers, and the elderly. Lastly, she rallied volunteers with her infectious enthusiasm by hosting the Barangay Nutrition Scholars (BNS) Summit annually. Since time immemorial, she has been a force in the field of nutrition, even after the untimely death of her husband; she refused to back down from the daunting task of parenting her five children while managing her equally demanding career. Her unwavering determination and boundless compassion for the betterment of nutritional status in Agusan del Sur have earned her the moniker of “the Iron Lady with a Heart” from those who knew her. She is married to the nutrition programs, as she always says.
